A Year Book Published by

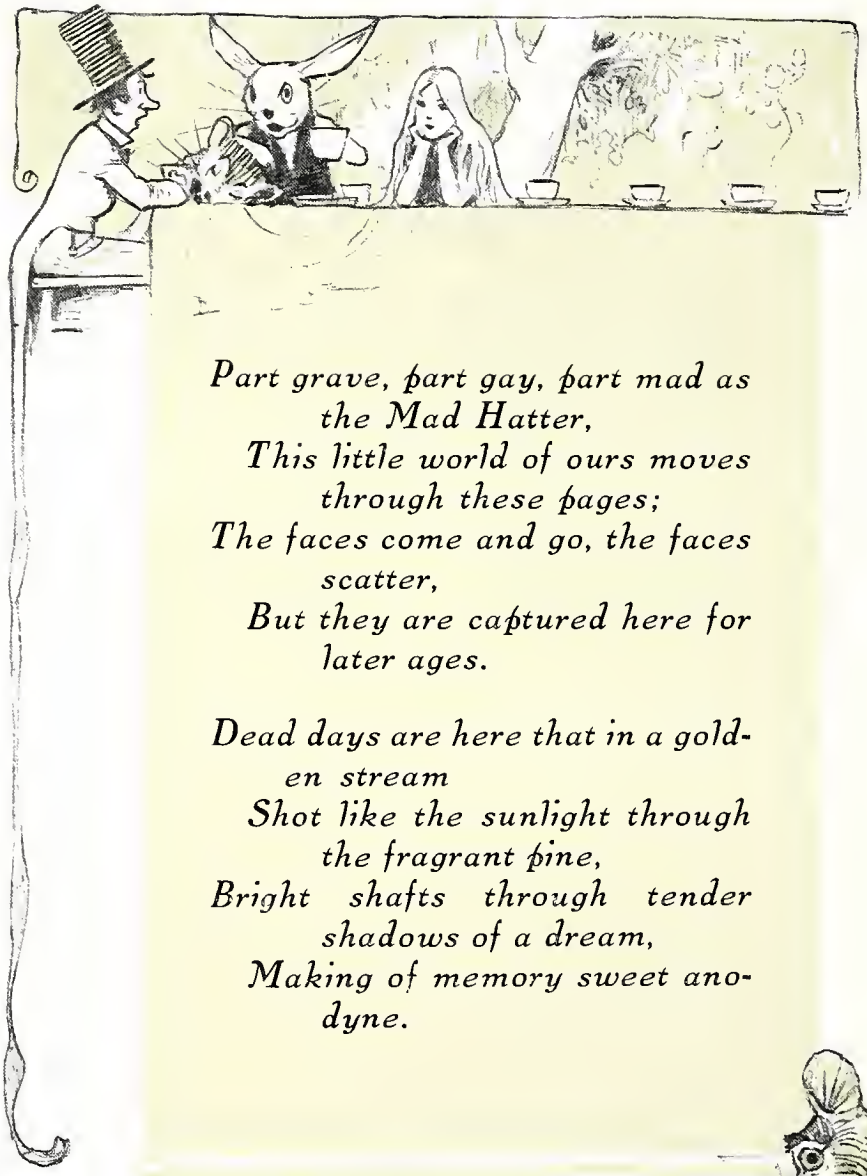
ALABAMA COLLEGE

MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA

"Thus grew the tale of Wonderland,
Thus slowly one by one
Its quaint events were hammered out,
And now the tale is done."

ALICE IN WONDERLAND.

R
378
A
v. 20



Part grave, part gay, part mad as the Mad Hatter,
This little world of ours moves through these pages;
The faces come and go, the faces scatter,
But they are captured here for later ages.

Dead days are here that in a golden stream
Shot like the sunlight through the fragrant pine,
Bright shafts through tender shadows of a dream,
Making of memory sweet anodyne.

Who has a better word to say than "Friend"?
Let us remember now, who then had laughter,
Our lovely dream, like Alice, at the end
Of years and voices long past going after.

These leaves, like vines that whisper in a breeze,
Whisper the face, the scene of days now past,
Who had the books, the games under the trees,
And who the grief of parting at the last.

THUS SPEAKS THE MAD HATTER:

"Speaking of proverbs, and also of pledges, a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush—AND—the only result when I tried to kill two birds with one stone was to lose the stone."

"Who in the world am I? Ah, that's the great puzzle!"

ALICE IN WONDERLAND.

Features

Preface

In Wonderlands, perhaps you've often noticed
  That a character may be completely changed,
So, as we present to you our special favorites,
  Please see how every one has been arranged.

The King of Hearts is reigning in his kingdom.
  He now no longer fears what "She" has said,
For the Queen of Hearts is happy as she can be,
  She never even says, "Off with his head!"

There's the Knave of Hearts. See what a reformation.
  Still, he's nimble and quite versatile in his tricks.
The Mad Hatter's always eating bread and butter,
  (For his time remains eternally at six).

A lady fair is Duchess in this kingdom,
  And she points her morals sharply, as of yore,
(Quite a pepper box at one time, you'll remember)
  But now she comes to greet you at the door.

Father William is a very active person.
  He's eternally turning flips or playing ball—
Everywhere they speak of him as quite athletic—
  So you see, he really hasn't changed at all.

Alice daintily is standing in her garden.
  She fears lest she should muddy her clean frock.
There again, the rabbit murmurs of his latch key
  And the door at home which he forgot to lock.

Besides the characters, in every story,
  There must be beauty—be it dark or fair.
The beauty found within these pages might be
  Immortalized within a romance rare.

Hail, King and Queen, and all the court attending,
  Laurels fitting to each one of you we bring.
May the Wonderland we've found exist forever
  In our hearts, and in this little song we sing.

King of Hearts: JANET WILSON—Most Popular

She: "Well, I can't hold this expression very much longer."

1: "Do you suppose she's on the way to English Lit?"

2: "No, I think she's sober this morning."

Suggestion for an opening sentence for a novel depicting college life: "A small coupe drew up in front of the dormitory and twelve passengers alighted."

Lewis Cox: "I kissed her while she wasn't looking."

Charley Wood: "What did she do?"

Lewis: "Kept her eyes closed for the rest of the evening."

She's a good lookin-g-lass.

I: "Don't you think Mary looks like a lovely flower?"

You: "Yeh, like one of those century plants."

Auburn Gent: "May I have this dance, Miss."

Weezie Smith: "No, I'm too danced out."

THUS SPEAKS THE MAD HATTER:

Everyone comes to class meetings.

Dean Haggard doesn't suggest new things.

Jane Stallworth doesn't meet the Executive Board.

Dr. Mears gives an "A" in Math.

Psychology becomes a crip.

Student Government meetings are not "very important."

Mass meetings are not compulsory.

Dates leave the campus without an urgent request to do so.

We can leave for a week-end without producing a birth certificate and full pedigree.

Lep isn't Miss Taber's closest companion.

Girls can smoke on the campus.

Taxi rides to Calera are .25 (twenty-five cents).

Somebody overcuts chapel (?).

The fuses never blow out.

Dot Smith loses prestige with any Freshman Class.

Alabama College, Judson, and Woman's College are consolidated.

Chicken, cauliflower, and ice cream do not appear for Sunday dinner.

Archer Sims gets ready to go somewhere on time.

Streets are paved in Montevallo.

It is safe to approach the post office at twelve o'clock.

Miss Irvin gives out sandwiches to take out of the dining room.

Anybody laughs at this.

Dr. Sharp: "What is your name, young lady?"

Student: "My name is Helen Mahler, but I'm just plain 'Hell' to the family."

He called her his main support because she always stood him up.

* * *

The meanest guy in the world is the one who purposely walks on his girl's feet while he is dancing with her, in order to keep his rival from having the next dance.

Miss Fish (to pupil): "Why can't you practice what you screech?"

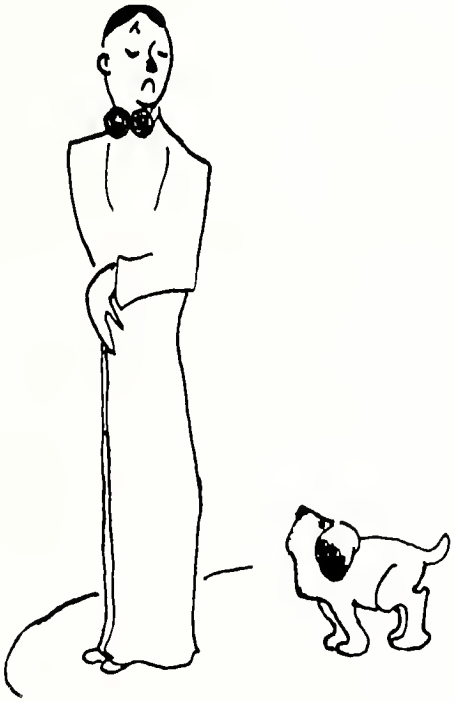
Sue: "How come that girl didn't return your hello?"

Rush: "Aw, she's a club sister of mine and never returns anything."

THUS SPEAKS THE MAD HATTER:

"About all some girls seem to learn at college is the three 'Rahs'."



"Get out of here, the whole pack of you!"

"What'll you have?" asked the lady in waiting of the big, tough man.

"Beef."

"How'll you have it?"

"Aw, drive in the steer, and I'll bite off what I want."

Speaking of marriages, the guy who coined the word "altar" must have been an Englishman who dropped his H's.

EPITAPH FOR A POET'S GRAVE

He sang, but the world could not carry his tune.

Sophistication, No End—

I looked wearily at the stag line,
Signaled with
My little finger,
Looked cross-eyed
And gave signs
Of utter despair and exhaustion,
And looked at my
Roommate with
The "Et tu, Brute!"
Expression.
Yet no one
Cut in. But That's just
What I wanted,
For—
She was the best dancer on the floor.

CAMPUS ETIQUETTE

In case of an automobile wreck, who should speak first? And should the man precede the lady through the windshield?

A.: "I want something to wear around the dormitory."

Salesgirl: "How large is your dormitory?"

Thus Speaks the Mad Hatter:

He who laughs first is a nuisance.

"What do you think about sex?"
"I don't know; what are they, anyway?"

ONE MORE REQUEST, PLEASE!

"Will the faculty look pleased in chapel now and then? Variety is the spice of life."

* * *

We claim the thinnest man in the world is the one who fell through a hole in his trousers and hanged himself.

She: "Is there any art in kissing?"

He: "None except 'Art thou willing?'"

* * *

Millie: "Why are you always behind in your studies?"

Bess: "Because, if I were not behind I could not pursue them."

The Poet's Corner

Ballad

By U. O. Mee

I came to college
To get a degree,
But I soon found out
They don't give 'em free.

I bought a book
To help in the cause,
But my report showed
There wasn't no Santa Claus.

I took Chemistry Lab.,
But I still don't know
How they can take out water
From H_2O.

I liked Trig very well,
Took it four years;
Then we two parted
In silence and tears.

I tried a little Physics,
But it proved a killer;
I switched to Education,
Just for a filler.

Now, I'm on the fence,
And feeling free;
But I had to leave college
Without a degree.

Life and Death

By Anonymous Lee

The boy stood on the burning deck,
The breaking waves dashed high;
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
Coming through the rye?

Just a song at twilight,
When the lights are low;
Under the spreading chestnut tree,
Where the corn and 'taters grow.

As Oft As Ye Shall Read This, Think What It Means!

As The Technala Goes to Press, 1928.

Dear Student Reader:

This is to remind you that from the point of view of my work, there are, after being at college, three important things in a college girl's life which ought to be recorded. These are:

1 change of name
2 change of address
3 change of occupation.

It has become my pleasant task to help keep up with the girls who go out from Alabama College to return no more as students. If you are one of these, won't you remember to let me know about it if you do anything important, like the things I have enumerated? It would help my work, and, besides, you've no idea how much I'd like to hear from you from time to time!

If you are a graduate, you are eligible for membership in the Alumnae Association. If you were not "annexed" at the party, I hope you will soon align yourself with the organization which is the one medium through which you may keep in touch with your class-mates and with your Alma Mater, both of which you will value more as the years go by.

If you are not a graduate, you will be eligible for Association membership when your class shall have graduated. I hope you will help me to keep that in mind by reminding me!

With sincere good wishes for you in your new life relations, I am,

Cordially yours,

FLORA BELLE SURLES,
Alabama College.
